This structure is the perfect compliment for all of the fantastic commuter equipment released this year.

COMING THIS YEAR FROM SOUNDTRAXX...

At the request of our customers, a Tsunami decoder for National Railway Equipment (NRE) GenSet locomotives is in the works and ready to order! The GenSet decoder will be available in the TSU-AT1000 board format for easy installations into Atlas HO GenSet models.

We recorded this decoder's sounds directly from the Cummins QSK19C prime movers of the NRE 3GS-21B Locomotive. NRE released the prototype in 2007 using Generator Set, or GenSet, technology with multiple prime movers that are switched on and off as needed for power. This setup results in significant fuel savings and emission reductions.

With individual sound channels for the three prime movers, our GenSet decoder allows each engine to have its prototypically correct RPM setting through eight throttle notches. Furthermore, an internal timer shuts off the prime movers incrementally as they "cool down" – just like the prototype!

Along with a 16-bit digital sound processor and built-in effects, the TSU-AT1000 includes functions for lighting features and advanced motor control. Sounds include engine start up and shut down, eight throttle notch settings, 16 airhorns, and an electronic bell. We are currently taking orders for these decoders and anticipate a late winter delivery.

Just a reminder, I am still considering a very unique light kit for the El Capitan cars.

I am taking Pre-Orders for the Kato Superliner Light kit. This kit packs in all of the features of the rest of our line but is unique in that it uses an ultra-thin circuit board to remain hidden from view in the upper deck of the all-window lounge cars of the El Cap and Superliners.

SBS4DCC N Scale DCC-Friendly Kato Superliner Passenger Car Light Kit

Price: $15.50

More Info

No doubt they will eventually release the lounge in Pacific Parlor paint too.

With some work, the kit should be adaptable to similar cars like the Bachmann Full Dome car that has been around for years.

The design work is finished and the project is ready to release. Due to the expense of the boards, I cannot commit to this unit until I have enough pre-orders to justify production. So please, place a no-money-down, no-obligation pre-order if this model interests you.

Additional Pre-Orders include...

How To #10 – Soundtraxx Tsunami Features: LED Compensation

A programming tip from Soundtraxx...

“Both Tsunami and SoundTraxx Mobile Decoders have this feature. This bit in CVs 49-52 actually changes the way the lighting effect is sent so that it helps make the LEDs appear and behave as if they were incandescent bulbs. To see this in action, install a LED and a 1k (1000 ohm) resistor onto the white wire (F0f, Headlight) and the blue wire. The default value for CV49, Headlamp control is 15, but change this to 2 for a Mars light. The effect is there, but not very vibrant, as you’d expect. Add in 128 (128+2=130) into CV49 and look at the mars light now. It has the expected pop! This will help all of your customers’ or your installs behave and appear more realistic than many other decoders on the market! It is important to note that this does not change the output voltage to regulate for LEDs, so resistors are still required.”

SBS4DCC HO Athearn Wheel Wipers

The SBS4DCC HO Scale HO-P6W-ATH Flat Wheel Wiper is back in stock. This shipment has also been redesigned. I received information from a couple customers that the center axle was contacting the wiper wing and causing a short. Further investigation revealed there have been many design variations of this truck over the past forty-some-odd years. My original samples did not reveal this problem. A simple change to the design has eliminated any chance of this interference.

I have also changed the P4W-ATH and P6W-ATH hardware kits to include a 1/2" long 4-40 screw and 4-40 nut to replace the existing hardware. Just drill out the bolster pin, assemble the conacts, insert the screw, and secure with the jam nut. It's just easier to do it this way.

SBS4DCC N P4W-RP Wheel Wipers

The SBS4DCC N Scale P4W-RP Wheel Wiper is back in stock. This model fits Rapido and Fox Valley N Scale trucks. NOTE: this version requires a special insulator to isolate the contact from the metal screw used to secure the truck to the car body. The insulator can be made for a piece of plastic tube stock.

The Rules - CCOR 1959

Just for fun, I added a number of pages over the past several months that are taken from some rulebooks I read on occasion that detail the official rules for lighting, hand signals and whistle signals as used by the railroads to communicate with and between and to afford protection to the train crew members.

The pages are presented here simply to provide guidance in the use of all these cool new light and sound effects the world of DCC has enabled us with. Bear this in mind. There is no right or wrong way to run your model trains. If you like simulating prototype operations, well then... Enjoy!

NOTE REGARDING SERVOR ERRORS

We have had a few reports from customers stating they are not able to complete their order and receive a message that reads "SERVOR ERROR". Obviously this is a huge problem for me, since that is the primary platform for Streamlined Backshop sales.

If you receive this error, please call 317-201-4974 between 9am and 11pm EST to complete your transaction by phone. Leave a message if I do not answer immediately and I will return your call as soon as I can.

We are working with our web and e-commerce service provider to identify the cause of the problem and ultimately get the problem corrected. It is isolated and does not seem to be repeatable. I can personally place an order and so can they so we are still investigating the matter.

You may be able to resolve the issue by deleting your browser history and or adjusting your privacy settings. The shopping must be able to place a "cookie" on you computer to be able to function properly so please verify your browser security settings.

You may also notice that we have reverted back to the "long form" checkout process at the recommendation of our web provider. They think the "short form" might be the cause. Time will tell.

Additionally, we would greatly appreciate it if you are able to provide any additional information or details about the error you receive including copied text or a screen shot of the error message box. This information can be emailed to sales@sbs4dcc.com.

We apologize for the inconvenience and are working hard to get the matter resolved.
