

The Backshop Flyer, Extra 1307

WE'VE BEEN HACKED!

Well not actually us but one of the servers that our provider uses to host the website has been hacked. Fortunately the site is divided into two areas.

First is sbs4dcc.com which serves as a gateway to the store and provides a place to share information. This site is currently unavailable. Our provider is aware of the problem and is working on the matter to resolve the situation quickly. Please let me know if you need any of the information, including our DCC Tutorials Tips and Tricks, that was presented on this part of the site. I may have a copy of the raw data or can access it through the site builder gateway.

Second is the full-featured, fully secured e-commerce site store.sbs4dcc.com that serves as the platform for our retail business. The store is currently not affected by the attack. You can access the store through the link provided. All financial transactions are processed by Verisign via Chase Paymentech and the cart is protected by a SSL certificate to insure your transactions remain as safe as I can make them.

Thanks for your patience and continued patronage while we get this sorted out.
